

NEW NATIONAL WHS LAWS

Act and Regulations
Seminar
Combined

All Australian Governments have committed to adopting new harmonised Work Health and Safety Laws (WHS). The Commonwealth, ACT, Queensland, New South Wales and the Northern Territory have passed laws to be effective on the target date of 1 January 2012. For the other states implementation will be delayed.

If your state/territory implemented the WHS laws on 1 January 2012, you need to act fast to understand and comply with your obligations. If you operate in one of the delayed jurisdictions, many of the requirements within the Act and Regulations can be applied now, enhancing the management of health and safety in your business.

This interactive seminar expertly reviews the finalised Act and Regulations and demonstrates compliance requirements whether they be immediate or in getting ready for the future.

Understanding and implementing key requirements of the WHS Act and Regulations and utilising Codes of Practice to aid compliance.

- How do you prepare and respond to visits from unions and the inspectorate?
- How can you prepare your CEO, and other officers, to exercise due diligence, and prove it?
- What are the duties of a person conducting a business or undertaking (PCBU), including the upstream duties of PCBUs who design, manufacture, import, supply, install, erect or commission plant, structures or substances?
- What are the key requirements of the regulations with which most PCBUs will need to comply?

Focusing on key provisions of the Act and Regulations and using a combination of case studies and practical tools, this seminar provides you with practical advice on how to maximise the opportunities provided by these new laws.
